THE INSTITUTE FOR BLIND.

Opening of the Forty Weeks' School Session-Industrial Department Change.

Yesterday was "opening day," that is the first day of the fall and winter term, at the Institute for the Blind. School opens on the second Wednesday in September and continues in session forty weeks, without vacation, the pupils celebrating the Christmas holiday at the institute, and spending their summer vacation of twelve weeks at home. As usual, the pupils return from their vacation slowly. The parents in many cases prefer to wait until State fair week, when they can come and bring the children at a reduced rate of fare. The State does not pay transportation to the institution, but does pay transportation to the homes of pupils when the parents or friends are not able to do so. In the case of clothing, parents who are able to do so are expected to provide their children with clothing. Pupils who do not have their clothing thus provided are furnished clothing, which is charged up to the counties from which they

Last year the total enrollment of pupils was 131. This year an increase of about fifteen is expected. The cause of this increase lies in the fact that heretofore the limit as to age of pupils has been from nine to twenty-one years, but now they are admitted at six years old, and in special cases when over twenty-one years old. These special cases are where blindness has occurred after a young man or woman has grown up without having learned a trade. The institute now takes such and teaches them some kind of handieraft.

The industrial department is conducted on a different basis than formerly. Heretotore the contract system has prevailed. and the instruction in broom-making, etc., has been furnished by contractors, who, for the use of the plant and buildings, furnished instruction, for which they received the labor of the pupils without compensation. The justitute authorities have an arrangement at the Union Station whereby they are telephoned when a pupil

WILL THEY HAVE TO GO TO JAIL

Criminal Violation of the Law by Sullivan's Most Prominent Officials.

The Clerks Refused to Let the Figures Be Seen in the Effort to Cover Up the Matter from the Public View.

Appropriation for Street Commissioner's Pay-Rolls Wittingly Overdrawn.

Greer-Street Asphalt-Vapor Lights or Tallow Dips-Other Business Before the Board of Public Works Yesterday.

When both the clerk of the Board of Publie Works and the deputy controller on Tuesday declined to permit a Journal reporter to see the aggregate amount of the street commissioner's pay-rolls since the first of August, it occurred to the reporter that there must be some deeper reason than mere petty meanness for this refusal. He, of course, could not suspect that there was anything criminal for this wonderful administration to cover up. However, the matter was gone into further yesterday, and the reason for this refusal was very plainly developed. The same request to see the pay rolls, or at least the totals of them, was repeated to Deputy Controller Sam Perrott. He was again too busy to show them. Then the request was repeated to the clerk of the Board of Public Works and he also declined. "The controller's office," said he, "has charge of all the funds and financial matters, and you can get them there."

"But Perrott says he is too busy." "Well, that's all I have to say. I shall not give you the information."

A few minutes later the reporter returned and asked the clerk if he had the September trial balance of the funds at the board's disposal made out. Hereplied that he had.

"May I see it?"

"May I see it?"

"No, that is simply a private matter."

"May I see the Angust balance sheet?"

"No, if you want to see that you'll have to go back to the newspaper files. It was published correctly."

"What's the use of denying anybody access to these figures?"

"Mr. Perrott," replied clerk Parker, "makes a trial balance once a week and knows just how every fund stands. You can get your figures of him."

The reporter could not get them of Perrott, however, but came at the thing in a different way, and the result shows a direct and willful violation of one of the criminal provisions of the charter.

The three members of the Board of Public Works and the controller have laid themselves liable to a fine of $1,000 each and imprisonment for six months.

and imprisonment for six months.

The business of violating the charter is no new thing to the Sullivan administration. It has never for a moment allowed that instrument to stand in its way when it interfered with anything the administration wanted, from a more convenient method of collecting dog licenses up to using the police and fire forces as political machines.

The present criminal violation is in conpay-rolls. It will be remembered that about a month ago Taggart and the rest of the Democratic leaders discussed a scheme of getting from the Council an extra appropriation of 200 000 for standard restriction. propriation of $30,000 for street repairs, hiring all the dissatisfied Democrats that could be found, and giving the city a general cleaning up before election. This scheme was not carried out because there would be too much publicity attached to it. It was thought better to wait until the It was thought better to wait until the annual appropriations were made, about the 1st of September, and then the plan could be put through without causing all the comment that would be excited by a special appropriation. However, time has dragged along until the old appropriation has been exhausted, and no new one has been made. The old appropriation was made by the Council last May, in appropriation ordinance No. 4, in which, under the head of Department of Public Works, specific sums were appropriated for street commissioner's pay-rolls, street commissioner's accounts, light, water, vacations, parks, sewers, bridges, etc. The charter requires that the appropriations be thus made for that the appropriations be thus made for specific purposes, and it further says, Section 52:

Any city official who shall issue any bond, certificate or warrant for the payment of money which shall purport to be an obligation of such city, and be beyond the unexpended balance of any appropriation made for such purpose, or who shall attempt to bind such city by any contract, agreement, or in any other way, to any extent beyond the amount of money at the time already appropriated by ordinance for such purpose, and remaining at the time unexpended, shall be liable on his official bond to any person injured thereby, and shall be fined in any sum not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and imprisoned in the county jail not more than six months, either or both.

six months, either or both. The balance of the clerk of the Board of Public Works made on Ang. 1, as published —and he says it was published correctly—showed $3,384.25 left to the credit of the board of the appropriation for street com-missioners' pay rolls. The street commis-sioners' pay rolls since Aug. 1, as obtained yesterday from the records in the street commissioners' office have been as follows:

Fund overdrawn...... $689.27 Section 52 catches the street commis-sioner, who certified the last pay-roll to the Board of Public Works, such member of the Board of Public Works who certified them to the controller, and the controller, who issued his warrants for the money. The street force is still at work, and the provision is being violated daily. Every one of the officials implicated, with the possible exception of Pat Harrold, who is not supposed to know anything, is aware of this provision of the charter. Now mem-bers of the Board of Public Works have often given as a reason for not making certain improvements the fact that they had not enough money appropriated, and were "likely to go to jail" if they exceeded their appropriations. Unquestionably, also, they all know, or ought to know, the state of this fund. There can be no other explanation of the persistent refusals of the deputy controller and clerk of the board to show the pay-rolls or balance sheets. The clerk of the board having made out his September balance. must of course have known it, and as a weekly balance is made in the coutroller's office, the fact was, of course, known there. The street commissioner's clerk was probably not in the secret and therefore did not help cover up the figures. Evidently the administration got into a "tight box" and took the very worst way to get out of it.

When the appropriation for the street commissioner's pay-rolls ran out, there were only two things that could be done. either to discharge the street force until an appropriation could be gotten from the Council, or go ahead and commit a criminal offense by overdrawing the appropriation and run the risk of not being found out. As the first would have created a howl among the Democratic political backs on the street force, and all their sisters, and cousins, and aunts, that would have been fatal in the midst of a campaign, the administration ran the desperate risk of adopting the second course and covering the matter up.

The risk was too great. It has been found

Street Improvement Bids Opened, Bids for asphalting Greer street, from Stevens to McCarty, were opened by the Board of Public Works yesterday. The Warren-Scharf Company bid $4.87 per front foot on each side, with an allowance ton, for $40,000. The ground was platted of 40 cents per foot for such old curbing as might prove good. The Western Company bid $4.75, with an allowance of 1912 cents for old curb. The bids were referred to the engineer to find out which was the cheaper. Mr. Conduitt said that the board had not yet determined what to do about the Stevens-street improvement, which was a companion piece to this. Two bids were received for repairing the block pavement on Delaware and Meridian streets. Tim T. Shehan bid $1.25 per square yard, the re-pairing to be done wherever designated by the engineer. Taylor & Lutes bid 45 cents per square yard where old blocks are to be reset, and 80 cents additional where new blocks are to be used.

Hard to Make Up Its Mind. The Board of Public Works held a secret session yesterday morning on the light question. The engineer has submitted a chart locating 258 vapor-lights in the varione outskirts. The question discussed was whether the board should order the Su Vapor-light Company to put in these lights at $17 per lamp, advertise for bids and give the St. Paul people a show, or light these districts temporarily with Chinese lanterns and tallow-dips. The board adjourned with this momentous question still unde-

The firemen have been granted the use of Tomlinson Hall for their ball Oct. 15. John W. Langdon, of the water-works, yesterday complained to the Board of Publie Works that the contractors were d stroying the lawns on College avenue by piling bowlders and gravel upon them. Notice was issued to the contractors to put a stop to the work of destruction.

Final action was taken yesterday on the resolution to construct Taggart's levee on the east bank of White river, from Chestnut to Ream street, for constructing the Huron street sewer, for graveling Newman street and graveling Traub avenue. Declaratory resolutions were adopted yesterday for graveling the alley south of Prospect street from Reid to John, graveling the alley north of Prospect street from Linden to Spruce, and graveling the alley east of Reid street from the alley south of Prospect to the alley north of Orange. President John P. Frenzel, accompanied by Lee Fulmer, appeared before the Board of Public Works yesterday about that Mr. Fulmer said he would round the curb at his own expense so as to leave eight and a half feet between the curb and the tracks. Mr. Conduitt pronounced this ar-rangement satisfactory, and Mr. Frenzel

Big Tin-Plate Enterprise. The American Tin-plate Company, of Elwood, capital stock, $300,000, was incorporated yesterday, with A. L. Conger and William Z. McDonald, of Akron, O., M. Seiberling, of Kokomo, W. B. Leeds and D. G. Reid, of Richmond, James M. Overshiner, of Elwood, and John F. Hazen, of Cincinnati, as directors. There are three thousand shares of $100 each. The Kauffman Gas Company of Jackson township, Hamilton county, also took out articles. The capital stock is $5,000. The Knicker-bocker Meter Company, of Indianapolis, capital stock $10,000, is the significant title of a newly organized corporation which has filed articles of association. Its capital stock is $10,000, and directors are James B. Knickerbocker, Frederick A. Hetherington and Frederick Berner, jr. This enterprise is evidently built on the hope that the meter system

Arranging for Their Reunion, Resident members of the Eleventh Indiana Regiment met at the Journal counting-room, last evening, to arrange for the reunion on the 20th of October. G. B. Thompson was instructed to prepare a programme for the camp-fire to be held at Tomlinson Hall, when Gen. Lew Wallace will deliver an address on "The Eleventh Indiana and Its Oath—Remember Buena Vista," and Gen. Dan Macauley one on "The Eleventh Indiana as Pirouters." J. R. Ross, W. C. Phipps and W. J. Kercheval were appointed a finance committee, and John Robinson, Charley Ingersoll and Wm. Homburg a committee on decoration. The members adjourned to meet at the same lace Saturday evening next,

The Annual Conference. The Board of State Charities has issued a call to the township trustees and County Commissioners of the State for a conference, to be held at the State-house, commencing Wednesday morning, Oct. 7. The principal object of the conference is to take action on the recommendations made by the committee of five appointed by last year's conference, with regard to "Travel-ing Medicants" and "Systematic Records of Relief." Opportunity will be afforded the trustees to discuss such other business as any of them may wish to bring before the meeting. Application has been made for reduced railroad rates. If granted, local ticket agents will be able to give information on the subject.

Amusements. "Abraham Lincoln" attracted a larger audience last night than on the occasion of the opening performance. The play ran much more smoothly and several changes were made that not only improved it materially, but shortened the time necessary for its production fully half an hour. Other changes are to follow and the rest of the performances here will doubtless show a decided improvement upon the three that have been given. The matinees vesterday was well-attended and the interest in the drama appears to be general. The sale of seats indicates excellent business during the balance of the engagement.

A Drinking Fountain to Miss Willard. Mrs. Emma C. Moates, representing the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, appeared before the Board of Public Works yesterday and said that she and others desired to erect, by subscription, a memorial drinking fountain to Frances E. Willard, and wanted the board to designate a place for it. She suggested the corner of Tennes-see and Washington, but the board thought University or Military Park would be a better place for it. It promised to consider the matter and notify her.

Plans for the Coming Year. To-morrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church, there will be a meeting of all the old students of the various Democratic Free Beer Too Weak an Attraction to Hurt Mr. Herod's Meeting.

The Republican Nominee for Mayor Tells Interesting Truths to Eleventh Warders-Free Beer Stations Established by Democrats.

The crowd that gathered last evening at the corner of South West and Grant streets to listen to Mr. Herod was the largest ever known in that locality to listen to a Republican candidate. In fact, in that part of the city Mr. Herod is not so much a party candidate as a citizens' candidate, his hearers being for the most part Democrats. This hearing was all that any one could desire. Mr. Herod was listened to with the closest attention, and the two or three men who attempted to interrupt him were suppressed by their neighbors. Chief of Police Colbert stood at the edge of the crowd while the interruptions were going on, and made no effort whatever to maintain order. A stand had been erected for Mr. Herod to speak from, and it seems that in providing this speaking place a number of Democrats had given hearty as-He was introduced by James Sanders,

Republican candidate for Council from the Eleventh ward, but it was soon to be seen that he was not altogether a stranger to his audience. His talk was for the most part to men who own little properties and have homes paid for or are buying them through building associations. Mr. Herod spoke against the high and mighty way in which the boards chosen by Mr. Sullivan had conducted affairs, and dwelt especially upon the arrogance of the Board of Public Works.

"This board," said Mr. Herod, "says 'we don't care a fig what you want. If you don't take asphalt or brick you don't get anything.' And they don't care if it takes your homes to pay for it; if your homes go into the hands of men who stand around the court-house doors and speculate in tax titles. If there is anything that should drive a man to drink it is to take from him the home into which he has put years of his life, to pay for a street improvement; to drive his family over the hill to the poordrive his family over the hill to the poorhouse. I say give a man what he is able to pay for. This may be called speaking like a demagogue. I do not care; it is speaking for the right thing. Thank God, this country is free, and we have a right to comment upon the conduct of those who are in office. I know the people all over the city are opposed to the policy of the Board of Public Works, appointed by Mr. Sullivan, and I am with the people in this matter. Taxation is to be higher than ever before, and street improvements, and the salaries of city officials are higher, and are to be paid for by cials are higher, and are to be paid for by citizens. You men who own your little homes will pay a great deal of it. You can't hide your homes from the tax collector. The increase made in the salaries of Controller Woollen and the members of these city boards you will pay. This increase was clearly illegal. Mr. Woollen is getting a salary from the Clearing house Association of $2,500, and devotes more time to that office than to the other. This generous city has furnished him clerks at double the amount any of you men can earn in a year.
The law gave him $2,000 a year, but the City Council illegally added another thousand, and Mayor Sullivan did not veto the ordinance. Five hundred dollars has been added illegally to the salaries of each of the members of these boards. Mr. Sullivan will not turn these men out. What are are you to do? In my judgment the only thing you can do is to elect a man who will As Mr. Herod's speech was nearing its close it occurred to Mr. Holt, of the Board of Public Safety, to start a diversion for the purpose of taking away the crowd. This was in the nature of a suggestion for everybody to come and take beer at the saloon over the way. Superintendent Col-bert, Sanitary Officer Connors, John Lucid, Jim Keech and others acted as a steering committee, but, though their intention was committee, but, though their intention was to carry away the crowd, they failed in their purpose. The speech went on to a finish, and at its close many Democrats came forward and shook Mr. Herod's hand, proffering their hearty support. After the meeting the invitation of Holt and his assistants was renewed and free beer was on tap until a late hour, in the interest of Mayor Sullivan. It was honed in that way Mayor Sullivan. It was hoped in that way to dissipate the influence of Mr. Herod's speech, which left a lasting impression upon the tax-payers who heard it. Beer caunot, however, efface from their memories the truths they listened to. A Vacancy on the Ticket. The regular meeting of the Republican central committee last night was largely occupied with detailed business concerning the thirty days' poll, judges, clerks, etc. The following letter from Archibald Hall to Chairman Grubbs was read: I regret exceedingly to be obliged to inform you, and through you the city central committee and the Republicans of the Niuth ward, that it will be impossible for me to make the race for councilman in the Ninth ward. I am very g a epliment bestowed upon me, and I beg to assure you that my withdrawal is caused by my private business making it impossible for me to make a canvass, and not from any fear of the result. I will be found in the future, as in the past, devoting all my spare time to the success of the party. which I regard at this time as necessary for all those who are trying to pay for their homes.

Mr. Hall found the canvass occupying more of his time than be could afford. His father is paralyzed and requires a great deal of attention, and as he works from early morning to late at night he could get but little time for political work. His resignation was accepted and a primary called for Friday (to-morrow) evening, at the corner of Reid street and English avenue.

Free Beer in Sullivan's Interest, "Tom" Taggart is again after the colored vote, and is putting into execution a characteristic scheme to capture it. Into this scheme is to go a large amount of the enermous campaign fund gathered by the Democrats. The plan is to set up in business here and there a trusted Democratic negro in a saloon, and have the word passed around that free beer is on tap there for every colored man who will vote for Sullivan. One of these "headquarters" has been put in on Indiana avenue, another at 223 West Ohio street and another at Cal Car-son's place on Elizabeth street. The licenses for these grog-shops were paid for with Democratic money, Frank Maus taking out two of them, and the free beer is being furnished out of 'lageart's campaign fund. Every night the places are filled with crowds of colored men and "merry Cain" is raised until long into the night. Of course Sullivan is not supposed to know anything about this systematic debauchery of voters in his interest, but it is a part and a very important part of his campaign.

Scared Them Into Releasing Him. On Sunday night the police arrested a man on the South Side for drunkenness. He resisted and they had trouble getting him into the patrol wagon and to the station-house. After arriving there he made great racket and denounced the police for arresting him, saying he was a good Democrat and could control twenty-five votes and would cast every one of them against Sullivan if he was not released. He continued his threats at intervals durng the night, breathing vengeance against the entire city administration. His threats had the desired effect, and early the next morning he was released without being taken before the Mayor.

Wanted to Be Electrocuted. Tobias Schultz, whose effort at selfdestruction by means of a pistol startled the neighborhood of No. 16 Prospect street, Tuesday evening, made a failure in his aim and will recover. He said he was out of work and so despondent that he did not want to live longer. During the day of the attempt he entered the Brush electric-light

THERE'S NOTHING ROTTEN IN THE STATE OF DENMARK.

(Revised edition of Hamlet.) Horatio: Is it a custom
To thus declare against th' plump and savory Western swine! Hamlet: Aye, marry, 'twas,
But 'tis a custom that no longer tarr es.
The King hath taken heed unto the wants
Of common folk; and now the swine
From the far Occident, that bounteous land of peace, Finds ready entrance here in ham and bacon.

[Ghost of Shakspeare rises and the dramatist flees for his life.] They must have it. Denmark follows Germany and admits American pork. The happy people of this land who have been eating KINGAN'S PORK PRODUCTS right along know what the people over there have been missing. Ask your butcher or grocer for
